The Missouri Judicial System

> That the courts of justice shall be open to every person and certain remedy afforded for every injury to person, property or character, and that right and justice shall be administered without sale, denial or delay.
> Article 1, Section 14
> Constitution of Missouri

The Missouri Constitution organizes the judicial system into three tiers. The Supreme Court is the state's highest court, with statewide jurisdiction. The Court of Appeals, Missouri's intermediate appellate court, consists of three districts with general appellate jurisdiction in all cases not within the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court. The third tier is a Circuit Court, divided into 45 circuits, with original jurisdiction over all cases and matters, civil and criminal.

The Supreme Court

The Missouri Constitution gives the Supreme Court both mandatory and discretionary jurisdiction. Article V, Section 3, provides that:

> The supreme court shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction in all cases involving the validity of a treaty or statute of the United States, or of a statute or provision of the constitution of this state, the construction of the revenue laws of this state, the title to any state office and in all cases where the punishment imposed is death.

The Court may order cases transferred to it from the Court of Appeals; it may also agree to accept cases that the Court of Appeals has requested be transferred due to general interest, the importance of the questions involved, or to reexamine existing law. In addition, cases pending in the state's intermediate appellate court are transferred to the Supreme Court when any participating appellate judge dissents from the majority opinion and certifies that he deems that opinion to be contrary to any previous decision of the Supreme Court or of the Court of Appeals.

Prior to 1972, the Supreme Court had jurisdiction in all criminal felony appeals. At present, most felony appeals go to the Court of Appeals. The Supreme Court's jurisdiction over these cases is largely in the nature of certiorari.

The Court also hears cases involving issues that can be brought directly to the Supreme Court instead of through the lower courts. These include writs of prohibition, mandamus, and habeas corpus. In addition to its decision-making powers, the Court promulgates rules of practice and procedure for all Missouri courts, prescribes the form and content of instructions to the jury, licenses all lawyers practicing in Missouri, and disciplines lawyers for violations of the code of ethics.

There are seven judges on the Supreme Court. One judge serves as chief justice for a two-year term with selection typically rotated among the judges.

As chief administrative officer of the Supreme Court, the Chief Justice serves as general liaison to the legislature, executive branch, and Missouri Bar, and is the contact person for those citizens and organizations seeking information or a speaker. He or she chairs the Judicial Conference, serves as Missouri's representative at the Conference of Chief Justices and is on the Appellate Judicial Commission.

Executive duties include responding to administrative questions that arise within the Supreme Court as well as other state courts; and attending to personnel matters, internal budget considerations and the Courts' physical plant. The Chief Justice is responsible, along with other members of the Court, for final approval of the budget for the judiciary.

The Court of Appeals

> The court of appeals shall have general appellate jurisdiction in all cases except those within the exclusive jurisdiction of the supreme court.
> Article V, Section 3
> Constitution of Missouri

Missouri's intermediate appellate structure of one court divided into three districts was established in 1970 by constitutional amendment. The three districts are situated in St. Louis, Kansas City, and Springfield. By law, the Southern District, situated in Springfield, also holds sessions in Poplar Bluff. Each district of the Court of Appeals may sit in divisions, composed of at least three judges, determined by the judges of that district. The orders, judgments, and decrees of a majority of the judges of any division have the force and effect of those of the full court.

There are 32 judges on the Court of Appeals. Each district selects a chief judge who serves for an amount of time determined by court rule.

The Circuit Court

> The circuit courts shall have original jurisdiction over all other cases and matters, civil and criminal. Such courts may issue and determine original remedial writs and shall sit at times and places within the circuit as determined by the circuit court.
> Article V, Section 14 (a)
> Constitution of Missouri

The Circuit Court is the state's trial court or court of general jurisdiction. There are 45 circuits, comprised of from one to five counties. St. Louis City constitutes one of the 45 circuits. Each circuit has at least one circuit judge. Each county, pursuant to Article V, Section 16, has at least one associate circuit judge. At present, there are 134 circuit judges and 175 associate circuit judges. One circuit judge in each circuit serves as presiding judge, with administrative responsibilities. While most circuit judges are elected, the Nonpartisan Court Plan, adopted as an amendment to the constitution in 1940, provides for the nonpartisan appointment of Supreme Court and Court of Appeals judges, as well as Circuit Court judges in the City of St. Louis and Jackson County. The plan has been extended by popular election in St. Louis County, Clay County, Platte County and, by charter, to Kansas City municipal court judges. A total of 68 circuit judges and 34 associate circuit judges are selected under provisions of the Nonpartisan Court Plan.

In each county, the circuit court is organized into divisions: circuit, associate, juvenile, municipal, and probate. Each division hears and decides different classes of cases within its jurisdiction.

The circuit divisions handle felony cases after the preliminary hearing; civil cases where the amount of money involved exceeds $15,000; misdemeanor and municipal jury trials; trials de novo on municipal cases, civil cases under $5,000 and small claims cases; administrative review cases; condemnations; extraordinary remedy cases such as habeas corpus and injunctions; motions for post conviction relief; and domestic relations cases.

The associate divisions hear traffic cases, misdemeanors, infractions, and felony preliminaries, civil matters under $15,000, and matters filed in small claims courts as prescribed in Chapter 482 of Missouri's revised statutes. Associate circuit judges may also hear municipal ordinance violations in municipalities that have less than 400,000 people and have no municipal judge. (Municipalities with populations of 400,000 or more must provide for a legally trained municipal judge.) In a small number of locations, associate judges also hear county ordinance violations.

Pursuant to Article V, Section 17, associate judges may be assigned to handle any type of case; as a result, these judge are disposing an ever-increasing number of what were traditionally considered circuit judge matters. Some of the matters commonly handled by the associate judges in certain circuits are non-contested dissolutions, adult abuse cases, and change of name cases. Some associate judges hear all or nearly all of the juvenile cases in their counties. Additionally, associate judges are, with increasing frequency, being assigned to hear cases in other counties within the circuit.

The juvenile divisions of the Circuit Court serve persons 17 years of age and under who are victims of abuse or neglect, and persons under the age of 17 who have violated state laws or municipal ordinances, who are status offenders, or who are the subject of adoption. Proceedings to terminate parental rights are also handled in the juvenile divisions.

Municipal divisions handle municipal traffic and other ordinance violations.

The probate divisions of the Circuit Court administer deceased persons estates, the estates of those who are incapacitated or disabled, the estates of minors, and certain mental health proceedings.

Most of the nonjudicial staff for the Circuit Court is comprised of state-paid clerks. With minor exceptions, there is one elected circuit clerk in each county. The exceptions are Marion County, where two circuit clerks are elected; St. Louis County, where the circuit clerk is appointed; and Jackson County, where a court administrator is appointed in lieu of a circuit clerk. Circuit clerks and their staffs are responsible for the clerical aspects of court case processing. In most counties, the circuit clerk's staff, appointed by the circuit clerk, has responsibility for what have traditionally been considered circuit judge or circuit division cases. Most associate judges and circuit judges who handle probate matters appoint and supervise their own clerks. In a number of counties, however, the clerical staff of the associate judges have been combined with that of the circuit clerk, providing one pool of clerical personnel to process all civil, criminal, and juvenile cases. In St. Clair and Jefferson Counties, one clerical pool, appointed and supervised by the circuit clerk, is responsible for processing all types of cases, including probate. In addition to the responsibilities mentioned previously, a large part of the circuit clerks' workload involves the collection and disbursement of child support monies.

Office of State Courts Administrator

As the administrative staff of the Supreme Court, the Office of State Courts Administrator fulfills the administrative obligations of the Supreme Court which are mandated under the judicial article and the statutes. Established in 1970 by constitutional amendment, the office provides a wide range of administrative and technical services to Missouri's trial judges and to clerks and other nonjudicial personnel. By delegation from the Supreme Court through Rule 82.03 and a series of administrative rules or directly by statute, the staff is now required to perform numerous duties.

Staff perform technical assistance, statistical analyses, financial system analyses, and continuing education functions. Staff members travel to courts on request from judges and clerks concerning case processing, financial recordkeeping, records retention and destruction, statistical reporting, special projects, sound recording, and development of model systems. Training sessions including trial colleges for judges, regional clerk training seminars, orientation conferences for new judges and clerk, and special programs are coordinated by the Office.

The State Courts Administrator's Office develops automated financial, recordkeeping and case management systems for use on microcomputers in divisions of the Circuit Court. Support for these systems and assistance in purchasing and operating the necessary equipment are provided. Staff also develops and operates recordkeeping and administrative systems for the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals.

A central transcribing service prepares typed transcripts from sound recordings when needed for appeals and other purposes as required by statute.

The office assists in policy direction for the Statewide Judicial Information System. Data collected through the System is analyzed and used to respond to numerous requests including those from judges and clerks needing information for management purposes and local planners considering renovation, expansion or construction of court, detention, juvenile and other facilities.

The office compiles the judiciary's annual budget and prepares estimates of the potential impact of proposed legislation on the state's courts. It processes the payroll for most judicial state employees and all other state expenditures of the Supreme Court Appropriation.

Staff provide professional and clerical support to numerous committees of the Supreme Court including the Circuit Court Budget Committee, the Court of Appeals Budget Committee, the Judicial Education Committee, the Presiding Judges' Executive Committee, and the State Judicial Records Committee.

The office serves the Circuit Court Budget Committee with ongoing desk audits of all positions in the Circuit Court Personnel System and recommendations for reclassifications and personnel changes. It also maintains a weighted workload system, an objective method for ranking offices based on relative need for additional staff.

The Office of State Courts Administrator processes requests for judge transfers and conducts certification courses for nonlawyer municipal judges.

It publishes the Missouri Judicial Report, the Presiding Judge's Newsletter, and a newsletter for state judicial personnel. It keeps current the Missouri Court Clerks Handbook, the Probate Clerks Handbook, the County Payroll Designee Handbook, and users' manuals for the Statewide Judicial Information System.

Clerk of the Supreme Court

The Clerk of the Supreme Court is responsible for a wide range of duties including the supervision of the internal administrative function of the court and the planning and administrative function of the Missouri Judicial Conference, the organization comprising all of the judges in the state. The Clerk's office carries out the day-to-day staff functions necessary to keep cases moving through the Supreme Court.

The Clerk oversees the Supreme Court Library. The library provides research services and materials not only to Supreme Court judges, law clerks and Clerk's office personnel, but also the General Assembly, state agencies, other courts, outstate lawyers, and the general public. The library contains over 110,000 volumes and also contains LEXIS and WESTLAW terminals which allow computer-aided legal research.

In addition, the library supervises the production of the Missouri Appellate Court Opinion Summary and Missouri Appellate Court Pending Issues Digest. A monthly summary of all Missouri appellate opinions (Missouri Appellate Court Opinion Summary) informs judges, prosecutors, public defenders, news media, and the public of the latest decisions by the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals. To inform judges and other interested persons of cases prior to opinion, an appellate case subject index has been developed (Missouri Appellate Court Pending Issues Digest.) This digest facilitates the exchange of information about issues pending before the three districts of the Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court.

The administrative duties include handling all inquiries and procedural requests from attorneys throughout the state, arranging the docketing of cases, maintaining files in each case before the Court, receipting and dispersing fees related to those cases, and printing and distributing opinions of the court. The Clerk's office staffs the various rules and instructions committees of the Court. Additionally, the Supreme Court's security and maintenance activities are under the Clerk's supervision. The Clerk also provides administrative assistance to the State Board of Law Examiners. The staff supervises the work associated with the Missouri Bar examination, carrying out all physical aspects of administering the examination and conducting registration for swearing in new lawyers.

The marshal and his staff operate under the Clerk's direction. The marshal serves court orders, transports prisoners, provides security for the Court and directs maintenance and printing operations within the Supreme Court Building.

The staff counsel is charged with three primary responsibilities: processing capital murder cases, review of notices of appeals and transcripts and docketing of cases, and communication with judicial personnel and the public with regard to the Supreme Court's work. The staff counsel also initially reviews notices of appeals to see if jurisdiction lies in the Supreme Court and makes recommendations to the Chief Justice. He is charged with coordinating the docketing of cases for oral arguments. He disseminates information about cases and the Court's work to members of the public generally and answers questions from the media about specific cases.

As the provider of administrative and staff assistance to the Missouri Judicial Conference, the Clerk appears before legislative committees to present the views of the Conference on legislation affecting the judiciary and to provide data and information on judicial operations as requested.

The Year in Review

New Chief Justice

Judge Edward D. (Chip) Robertson, Jr. assumed a two-year term as Chief Justice on July 1, 1991. Judge Robertson, appointed to the Supreme Court in 1985, replaced Judge Charles B. Blackmar. In his State of the Judiciary address, the new Chief Justice called for establishment of a single-tier trial court, the transfer of judges into areas where they are needed, the combination of existing circuits into judicial administration areas, and computerization as a means to improve the efficiency of the judiciary and allow access to the courts. The Chief Justice also encouraged members of the General Assembly to recognize the importance of funding judicial education and to maintain the state's Nonpartisan Court Plan.

Judicial Critical Issues Commission Projects

The Judicial Critical Issues Commission was created in October 1990 "for the purpose of providing strategic and long-term planning for the 1990's and into the 21st Century". A number of projects were identified with the initial focus aimed at better utilization of judicial resources, improved jury management, development of case processing time standards, and enhanced citizen education regarding the judiciary.

Judicial resource utilization was addressed this year through establishment of an ad hoc committee to review circuit boundaries and implementation of the Mega-Circuit project.

Mega-Circuit Project: The Supreme Court implemented a pilot project in FY 1992 to deal with the increasing workloads in the large metropolitan courts. The project involves the pooling of judges from northeastern Missouri and St. Louis County to reduce the backlog of cases in St. Louis County and provide better service to litigants; this project has been extended indefinitely. Each week three different judges from northeastern Missouri counties are rotated into three existing associate circuit courtrooms in St. Louis County. The three St. Louis associate circuit judges displaced from those courtrooms have been assigned to three new divisions hearing circuit court cases exclusively. This marks the first time the Supreme Court has formally initiated a regularly scheduled judge transfer project. In the first year of this project, the number of pending felony cases was reduced from 2,486 to 1,720 and the length of time required to get a case on a circuit court docket was reduced from 22 months to 17 months.

The Committee on Juror Use and Management, established by the Supreme Court, held its first meeting in January 1992. At that meeting, the Committee heard a review and discussion of the jury standards adopted by the American Bar Association, and directed an advisory subcommittee to make recommendations regarding the desirability of implementing any or all of the standards in Missouri's courts.

The Committee on Case Processing Time Standards held its first meeting in February 1992. At that meeting the Committee considered standards adopted by other states, national standards recommended by the American Bar Association and the Conference of State Courts Administrators, research materials, publications and statistical data on the pace of litigation in Missouri courts.

In June 1992 the Committee submitted a proposed Supreme Court Administrative Rule on case processing time standards to the Judicial Critical Issues Commission. The rule established time frames within which various case types were to be disposed; a three-year implementation schedule was included. The Commission unanimously endorsed the proposed rule, in principal, and approved its being forwarded to the Supreme Court.

Two projects designed to educate citizens about the judiciary were undertaken. These involved media workshops and community forums.

One-day workshops on "Reporting on the Courts and the Law" were conducted at three locations during the spring of 1992. The workshops, cosponsored by the Supreme Court, the Missouri Broadcasters' Association, the Missouri Press Association and the Missouri Bar, were designed to provide reporters with basic information about the legal process and techniques of legal reporting.

In addition, judges from the Supreme Court traveled throughout the state to meet the public, talk about the court system, and answer questions about the judicial process.

Judicial Resources Commission Report

In its first annual report to the Supreme Court and General Assembly, the Judicial Resources Commission identified the following as the most pressing needs of the judiciary within the next three years: physical facilities, automation, clerical support staff and additional judges. Only one of every six presiding judges reported that they were unable to remain current in handling the present caseload. Factors identified by the judges as having an impact on abilities to handle future workload included population growth, new corrections or mental health facilities, highway construction, tourism and new legislation. The Commission recommended that the needs of the judiciary be addressed by expanding automation; assigning or transferring judges to counties that would provide the necessary facilities; increasing utilization of senior judges and expanding the program for aggressively transferring judges to areas where they were needed; and removing county ordinance violations cases from the St. Louis County associate circuit court.

The Commission, established pursuant to 476.415, RSMo (Cumulative Supplement 1992) is comprised of four judges, two senators and two representatives, an attorney appointed by the Missouri Bar, the executive director of the public defender commission, and a prosecuting attorney.

Financial Information

The state spent $4.3 billion in general revenue funds in FY 1992. Only $72.6 million (1.6 percent) of this amount was for operation of Missouri's judicial system. Personnel costs accounted for nearly all ($69 million) of the state expenditures--most expenses and equipment costs are borne by local government entities. The Circuit Court received no additional personnel in FY 1992, other than those appropriated to staff five new associate divisions, created as a result of population growth. As was the case with other state workers, judicial employees received no pay increases from General Revenue in the 1992 fiscal year.

The budget request for FY 1993, formulated this year, included funds for a statewide automated court system; monies for judicial transfers and senior judge assignments; funds for 109 additional FTE, including 79 FTE for general workload increases, 20 for child support and 10 for drivers' license revocation reporting; funds for temporary court reporters; and a repositioning package for clerks.

Almost $17.5 million was collected by the judiciary and submitted to the Missouri Department of Revenue and various state funds from filing, transcription, and court reporter fees, Crime Victims' Compensation Act judgments, prosecuting attorney's training fund collections, and other monies. In addition, monies were collected for deposit in the Sheriffs' Retirement Fund, for law libraries, for school districts, and for various other county funds.

Approximately 64,400 Crime Victims' Compensation Act judgments were entered against persons sentenced to prison, receiving a suspended imposition of sentence, sentenced to pay a fine, or placed under the supervision of the State Board of Probation and Parole or a county probation officer. Disbursements to the Crime Victims' Compensation Fund totaled $3,905,193, up 560 percent over the first year's collections.

Federal reimbursement to the General Revenue fund for work done on child support in FY 1992 was $1,526,433.

Legislation/Rule Changes

In FY 1992, several bills were passed which either changed judicial procedures or increased the workload of the courts. In particular, SB 529, which provides for the creation of a traffic court in St. Louis County; SB 540, which permits circuit and associate circuit judges, in cases where the board of probation and parole is not required to provide services for misdemeanor offenders, to contract with one or more private entities to provide such services; SB 638, which requires circuit clerks to notify the Department of Corrections by registered mail within 10 days of a subsequent conviction of a defendant already in the custody of Corrections; and SB 833 and HB 982 which require circuit clerks to record judgment liens in a bound book or computerized record.

The Judicial Conference, meeting in September, passed several resolutions in support of specific legislative initiatives, including legislation to create a statewide automation fund financed by increased court costs; to consolidate the trial bench in the State of Missouri; to abolish the right to a trial de novo as provided for small claims and municipal ordinance violations; to permit a circuit presiding judge to appoint special municipal judges with the expenses of such judges being paid by the municipality; to create a judicial education fund financed by court costs; to authorize the issuance of search warrants by electronic means; and to provide adequate compensation for all positions in the judicial branch of government.

In FY 1992, the Supreme Court amended several rules, including Rule 32.02 (Misdemeanors or Felonies-Change of Venue by Agreement) and Rule 33.17 (Misdemeanors or Felonies-Bonds-Surety, Individual-Qualifications), approved the revision of several MAI-Civil rules, and approved a new Form No. 6 "Summons for Personal Service Outside the State of Missouri" (Chapter 517, RSMo, actions only).

Workload

A total of 1,028 cases were filed in the Supreme Court, including a near-record number of writ applications. The number of appeals filed in the Court of Appeals grew from 3,004 in FY 1991 to 3,156 this year. Dispositions were also up, with the total of 2,975 appeals disposed exceeding last year's number by 222 cases. Judges in the state's intermediate appellate court handed down 2,047 opinions, the highest number to date.

More than 895,000 cases were filed in the Circuit Court, surpassing the previous record by nearly 30,000 cases. The greatest growth occurred in the numbers of domestic relations, criminal and traffic cases filed. Case dispositions, which totaled 864,180, were the highest ever reported.

Not reflected in the number of cases filed and disposed is the child support workload which is being handled in circuit clerks' offices throughout the state. Child support activity has put a great strain on these offices. The Division of Child Support Enforcement (DCSE) now has 848.85 FTE working to enforce child support payments. During the period of time in which a majority of this number was appropriated, the courts have had an increase of only 135 FTE for child support-related activities. Automated child support systems have helped, but they alone cannot keep pace with the rapidly rising number of accounts and payments. While the growing child support collections have been a boon for Missouri's children, they have placed an enormous burden on the clerks of the courts. Since 1986, the number of payments has increased from 799,745 to 1,666,839, and collections have increased from $93,047,949 to $221,040,427. The work that the courts and DCSE have done has been so successful that all of the DCSE positions are now funded with federal monies generated from IV-D collections, rather than from state general revenue.

Automation

The Criminal Case Management system developed by the State Courts Administrator's Office in conjunction with the Boone County Circuit Court was expanded to include financial processing. The system was installed in two additional pilot counties--Buchanan and Webster. During this year, the groundwork was laid for a joint project with the Department of Public Safety to integrate the Criminal Case Management System with criminal justice systems to improve criminal history reporting; the project, scheduled to begin in July 1992 and funded by the Bureau of Justice, was designed to obtain computer equipment and staff for implementation of the system in eight additional counties.

During the 1992 fiscal year, implementation of microcomputer systems also continued for jury selection, judgment index, associate division criminal and traffic case management, and child support. The number of courts using the jury selection system increased by 8 to 87; courts using the judgment index system went from 47 to 63; courts using the associate division criminal and traffic case management system went from 45 to 62 (including 14 municipal courts); and 19 courts were using the automated barcode system for reporting data to the Statewide Judicial Information System.

In FY 1992, 29 of the 109 circuit clerk offices using the Automated Child Support Trustee System received major enhancements to the system which removed limitations of previous versions and integrated the accounting functions with similar functions in the criminal case management system. Circuit clerks and staff of the State Courts Administrator's Office focused their efforts this year on defining the judiciary's requirements for the Missouri Automated Child Support System. Work in conjunction with the Division of Child Support Enforcement resulted in a federally approved advanced planning document and a request for proposal for the statewide system which was released to vendors in May, 1992.

The use of local area networks of microcomputers grew substantially during the year, allowing courts to greatly expand their processing capabilities. By June 30, 1992, staff were supporting 42 networks with combined applications of child support, judgment index, associate division criminal and traffic case management, and criminal case management. This number is up approximately 30 compared to the previous year. The equipment and software necessary for networking were available on a competitively bid state contract and were purchased by the courts. Data processing staff installed the networks and applications software and provided training in use of the system.

Model Manual Recordkeeping Procedures

Staff of the State Courts Administrator's Office continued to work on the "Model Court Project." The purpose of the project is to study existing recordkeeping practices in order to develop recommendations aimed at maximizing existing personnel resources and standardizing procedures. This project was designed to address problems of increasing workloads in the courts as well as a lack of uniformity from county to county in the way cases are processed. Work on the project began in the Callaway County Circuit Clerk's Office and then moved to the Pettis County Associate Division office. Other divisions of the Circuit Court will also be studied before the final project report is completed.

Judicial Transfers and Assignments

Circuit, associate circuit, and senior judges accepted more than 1,800 transfers to hear specific cases or to sit for periods of time during the 1992 fiscal year. Circuit judges accepted approximately 230 transfers which involved about 260 cases and close to 90 days of service. Associate circuit judges accepted about 1,400 transfers, including transfers to hear nearly 1,500 individual cases and transfers for periods of time totaling some 980 days.

In FY 1992, 32 senior judges accepted assignments to 58 specific cases and assignments for periods of time totaling 2,139 days. This is an equivalent contribution of more than 9 1/2 judge years. Most of the service provided by these judges was in the state's metropolitan circuits.

Associate judges are frequently assigned to hear circuit level matters, either on an individual case basis or through blanket assignment provided by local court rule. Actions typically assigned to associate judges include drivers' license revocation/suspension, uncontested dissolution, URESA, adult abuse, change of name, certified misdemeanor, and municipal trial de novo/certification cases. In the 1992 fiscal year, associate judges disposed 61,697 circuit level civil, criminal and municipal cases, 43 percent of all such cases disposed.

Judicial Committees

The Judicial Education Committee conducted two judicial colleges and sponsored municipal division judge seminars, a judicial orientation conference and courses on personal computers and word processing for judges.

The Committee on Jury Instructions-Criminal approved a series of jury instruction revisions that included those relating to driving while license is suspended, revoked or cancelled.

The Committee on Jury Instructions--Civil revised a series of instructions including those relating to verdict directing, comparative fault and limiting instructions in actions against health care providers.

The State Judicial Records Committee undertook a project to standardize civil and criminal forms. A forms review committee, consisting of representatives from six courts, was appointed to examine the forms and make recommendations to the Records Committee.

The Circuit Court Budget Committee, which oversees the Circuit Court

Personnel System and allocates state Circuit Court budget appropriations, provided general maintenance to Administrative Rule 7; reviewed and decided 259 personnel matters; authorized and monitored the review and classification audit of 753 classified Circuit Court positions; reviewed and rendered decisions on 72 Circuit Court budget requests for additional staffing for the FY 1993 budget; and reviewed employee dismissal and grievance actions on appeal from Circuit Courts.

Judges' and Clerks' Associations

The Association of Probate and Associate Circuit Judges met in April where members received information on the right to die; Missouri health care durable power of attorney; blood alcohol content machines; probate law and legislation.

The Circuit Clerks and Recorders Association annual meeting, held in September, included a program on child support, and a session entitled "Management/Leadership into the 90's".

Circuit Changes

In an effort to equalize workload, the legislature approved the reassignment of three counties to other judicial circuits. Effective August 28, 1991, Lincoln and Pike Counties became components of a newly created 45th circuit. Prior to that date, Lincoln and Pike Counties were joined with St. Charles County in the 11th Circuit.

Also effective August 28, 1991, Perry County, part of Circuit 24, was moved to Circuit 32. Prior to the change there were five counties in the 24th Circuit. In addition to Perry County, the 32nd Circuit is comprised of Bollinger and Caper Girardeau Counties.

New Judgeships

As provided by 478.320, RSMo, five counties became eligible for an additional associate circuit judge due to population growth. The five are Christian, Howell, Jefferson, Lawrence and St. Charles. The new judgeships became effective July 1, 1991.

A new circuit judgeship was also added as a result of the creation of the 45th Circuit.

Judge Changes

Several judges were appointed to the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and Circuit Court benches to replace judges who had resigned, retired, or died.

Three appointments were made to the Supreme Court. Duane Benton replaced Judge William H. Billings, Elwood L. Thomas replaced Judge Andrew J. Higgins, and William Ray Price replaced Judge Charles B. Blackmar.

Three appointments were also made to the Court of Appeals. In the Western District, Paul M. Spinden replaced Judge Anthony Nugent, Jr., and James M. Smart, Jr. replaced Judge Fernando J. Gaitan. In the Southern District, Kerry L. Montgomery replaced Judge Robert E. Hogan.

The following judge changes occurred during the year in the Circuit Court:

Circuit 3--Judge G. L. Crystal retired and was succeeded by Andrew A. Krohn. Circuit 6--Judge Ward Stuckey, an associate judge, was appointed circuit judge when Judge John M. Yeaman retired; Daniel Czamanske was appointed to Judge Stuckey's former position. Circuit 7-- Judge David W. Russell moved from an associate circuit judgeship to the circuit judgeship vacated by Judge R. Kenneth Elliott, who retired. Jane Pansing Brown was appointed associate circuit judge, replacing Judge Russell. Circuit 13--Jodie Capshaw Asel replaced Judge K. Stanley Clay, who resigned his position. Circuit 16--Jay A. Daugherty replaced Forest W. Hanna, who became an appellate judge; Vernon Scoville succeeded Judge Vincent E. Baker, who retired. Circuit 21--Barbara A. Crancer was appointed to fill the vacancy created when Associate Judge George R. Gerhard retired; Judge Robert Saitz retired; his position had not been filled when the fiscal year ended. Circuit 22--Circuit Judges Michael F. Godfrey and Thomas F. McGuire retired and were replaced by David C. Mason and Jimmie M. Edwards. Circuit 33--Fielding Potashnick replaced Judge Lewis M. Blanton as an associate judge. Judge Blanton was appointed to a federal judgeship. Circuit 40--Circuit Judge George Henry retired, creating a vacancy filled by Judge Robert Yocom.

The Supreme Court

Workload

A total of 1,028 cases were filed in Missouri's Supreme Court, comprised of 91 appeals, 346 writs, 562 applications to transfer, and 29 supervisory matters. In addition, the Court received nearly 600 motions for ruling.

Appeals

The 91 appeal cases filed this year include 50 direct appeals, 32 transfers and 9 petitions for review. Direct appeal cases are those matters over which the state's highest court has exclusive appellate jurisdiction and include appeals involving the validity of a U. S. treaty or statute; validity of a Missouri statute or constitutional provision; construction of state revenue laws; title to state office; and death penalty cases.

Transfer cases may originate by order of the Court of Appeals or through recommendation or certification. Most (21) of this year's transfer cases were certifications made by appellate judges who consider that an opinion is contrary to a previous decision of the Supreme Court or Court of Appeals. Sixteen of the certifications were from the Eastern District.

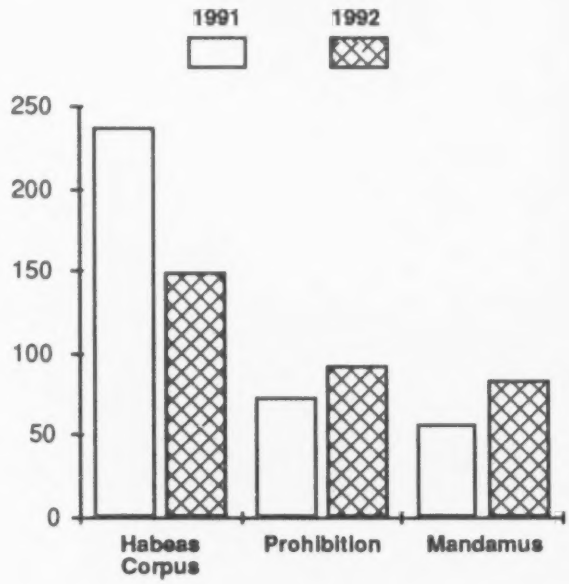
The Court disposed 71 appeal cases in FY 1992.

Writs

A near-record 346 applications for writs were filed in FY 1992. The number of habeas corpus writs declined to 149 from last year's high of 237 writs. It was still considerably greater than the numbers filed before FY 1991 when a change in federal regulations required that a writ of habeas corpus be filed before a defendant could proceed in federal court.

Figure 1

Supreme Court
Writs Filed
FY 1991 and FY 1992



Ninety-three petitions for writs of prohibition were filed, up 20 cases compared to last year. At the same time, 84 applications for writs of mandamus were filed, a 47 percent increase over last year's number of 57 applications.

Applications to Transfer

The Supreme Court received 562 applications to transfer from the Court of Appeals--237 from the Western District, 266 from the Eastern District and 59 from the Southern District. The Court denied 486 (86 percent) of these applications.

Applications to transfer which are granted must be finally determined as any appeal case. The Supreme Court disposed 88 granted applications this year, with 58 disposed by opinion.

Supervisory Matters

Twenty-nine supervisory matters were filed, with most involving license reinstatement or discipline of attorneys. One action for the removal or discipline of a judge was initiated.

Motions

Motion filings totaled 589 for the year with the Court ruling on 559 such matters. Included in the total are approximately 90 motions for extension of time on appeals and writs.

The Court of Appeals

Workload

Case filings and dispositions in the state's intermediate appellate court grew to near record levels in FY 1992. At the same time, the Court handed down more opinions and considered more motions than in any previous year.

Appeals

A total of 3,156 appeal cases were filed, up 152 filings compared to last year and within 50 cases of the record 3,202 appeals filed in FY 1989. Included in the total are 2,407 civil appeals, an increase of 116 civil filings over last year's number and the second largest number ever filed in one year. Seven hundred forty-nine (749) criminal appeals were filed, 36 more than last year.

The Court disposed 2,259 civil appeals and 716 criminal appeals for a total of 2,975 appeals disposed. The number exceeds last year's total dispositions by 222 cases. There were 175 more civil appeals and 47 more criminal appeals disposed than in FY 1991. The number of criminal appeals disposed was the largest in five years.

Judges in Missouri's Court of Appeals disposed 1,650 appeal cases by opinion, 55 percent of the cases disposed. Nearly 1,200 civil appeals and more than 460 criminal cases were disposed in this manner. Overall, just under one-third (927) of the appeals were dismissed. Included in the total are 35 percent (780) of the civil appeals and 21 percent (147) of the criminal appeals. Dispositions by order accounted for 7 percent (214) of the total appeal dispositions with 6 percent (143) of the civil appeals and 10 percent (71) of the criminal appeals disposed in this way.

The number of pending appeals increased 6 percent (181 cases) to total 3,179 cases by year's end. The pending civil caseload grew 7 percent (148 cases) from 1,988 cases on July 1, 1991, to 2,136 cases on June 30, 1992. The pending criminal caseload experienced a much smaller increase, rising just 3 percent (33 cases) to total 1,043 cases when the year closed.

Writs

The number of writ applications fell this year, down to 670 compared to 702 filed in FY 1991. The decrease is attributable entirely to fewer applications for writs of habeas corpus being filed. There were 196 such applications filed this year, down from last year's record of 267 writ applications, which nearly tripled the number filed in FY 1990. Increases occurred in both the number of mandamus and prohibition writ applications filed. The 165 petitions for writs of mandamus and 303 petitions for writs of prohibition were both the highest numbers in at least the last five years. The Court disposed 666 writ cases, more than 99 percent of the number filed. It started the year with 35 writ cases pending, a number which grew slightly to 39 cases by June 30.

Opinions Handed Down/Motions

Court of Appeals judges handed down a record 2,047 opinions in FY 1992, yielding an average of 64 opinions per judge.

Twelve thousand five hundred (12,500) motions were filed, an increase of more than 900 motions over last year. This number, comprised of 6,556 motions for extension of time and 5,944 other motions, is the largest number filed to date.

The Circuit Court

Workload

More than 895,000 cases were filed in FY 1992. This is the largest number ever filed and surpasses the previous record by nearly 30,000 cases. Compared with last year, filings are up approximately 34,000 cases (4 percent), with the greatest increases occurring in the numbers of domestic relations, criminal, and traffic cases filed.

A record 864,180 cases were disposed, 32,120 (4 percent) more cases than last year. The courts achieved a disposition to filing ratio of 0.97 for all case types combined, the highest ratio in at least seven years.

A total of 53,172 trials were conducted, with juries hearing evidence in 2,132 cases; 51,040 cases were tried by court.

The pending caseload in the Circuit Court grew by nearly 31,000 cases (5 percent) to total 639,565 cases by the end of the 1992 fiscal year.

Civil

For the third consecutive year, more than a quarter of a million civil cases were filed in Missouri's trial court. A total of 256,288 civil cases were filed in FY 1992, a number equivalent to the record of 256,343 cases filed last year. The civil caseload is comprised of 35,233 general civil, 82,197 domestic relations, 116,524 Chapter 517, and 22,334 small claims cases. While there were decreases in the numbers of Chapter 517 and small claims cases filed, the general civil caseload rose 1 percent (342 cases); there was a 9 percent increase (6,807 cases) in the number of domestic relations cases filed.

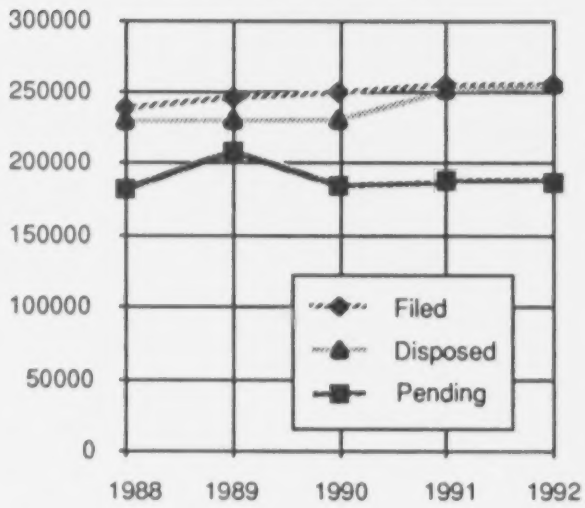
Circuit Court
Civil Cases
Filed, Disposed and Pending
FY 1988 - FY 1992



The courts disposed 255,752 civil cases, 99.8 percent of the number filed. Case dispositions have risen annually as the judiciary strives to keep pace with the growing volume of new case filings. This year's dispositions exceed the number reported for FY 1991 by about 3,000 cases.

Approximately 41,800 civil trials were conducted in FY 1992, nearly 1,000 more than last year. Included in the total are 1,030 jury trials, 92 more than in FY 1991. Trials by court accounted for 40,761 civil case dispositions. Judgments without trial were entered in 112,719 cases, 44 percent of all civil cases disposed. Dismissals accounted for 96,136 (38 percent) of the dispositions.

The civil disposition to filing ratio for the state as a whole was just under 1.00. Thirty-two counties and 13 circuits had ratios of 1.00 or greater.

The number of pending civil cases stood at 188,531 at year's end. Because case dispositions nearly equalled filings, the increase in the pending caseload was very small--536 cases or less than 1 percent--compared to the number pending when the year began.

GENERAL CIVIL

There were 35,233 general civil cases filed in the year which ended June 30, 1992, an increase of 342 cases (1 percent) compared to last year. General civil cases are those which are to be heard under full civil procedures and include tort and contract cases where the amount in question exceeds $15,000; administrative review actions; real estate cases, including applications to enforce mechanics' liens and eminent domain; writs; and petitions for post conviction relief.

Nearly 1 of every 3 (11,302) general civil cases filed was a tort. The remainder of the general civil caseload was comprised of 6,035 administrative review cases (most involve drivers' license revocations and suspensions); 4,707 contract cases; 2,407 petitions for extraordinary remedy, including temporary restraining orders, declaratory judgments, and habeas corpus writs; 1,640 real estate cases; and 8,627 miscellaneous actions. Among the case types included in the miscellaneous category are change of name cases, tax actions, registrations of foreign judgment, and motions for post conviction relief filed pursuant to Supreme Court Rules 24.035 and 29.15. The courts reported a total of 682 motions for post conviction relief filed.

The courts disposed 34,718 general civil cases, exceeding the number disposed last year by 1,662 cases (5 percent). In so doing, they achieved a disposition to filing ratio of 0.99, the highest such ratio in three years. Fifty counties and 14 circuits achieved ratios that met or exceeded the state average.

Just over 5,800 general civil cases were disposed by trial, including a record 930 dispositions by jury trial. Nearly 100 more general civil jury trials were conducted this year than in FY 1991. A judgment without trial was entered in 6,297 (18 percent) of the cases.

Most (20,979 or 60 percent) of the general civil cases were either dismissed by the parties or dismissed by court. Dismissals by the parties often follow out of court settlements, while dismissals by the court result frequently from the lack of prosecution.

Five hundred eighty-six (586) cases were transferred to another county on a change of venue.

A total of 48,104 general civil cases remained undisposed at the end of the year, a 1 percent increase (515 cases) over the number pending when the year started. Despite the overall increase, 42 counties and 14 circuits disposed a higher number of cases than were filed, thus reducing their pending caseload.

DOMESTIC RELATIONS

Domestic relations caseloads have increased dramatically over the last several years. A total of 82,197 domestic relations cases were initiated in FY 1992, including 33,274 petitions for dissolution of marriage, 7,831 motions to modify a previous decree, 2,810 motions for contempt, 21,956 adult abuse cases, 1,239 child protection orders, and 10,466 paternity suits. The total exceeds the number filed in FY 1991 by more than 6,800 cases (9 percent).

The number of domestic relations case dispositions jumped 11 percent from 1991 to 1992, the sharpest increase ever reported. A record 76,119 cases were disposed, up 7,275 cases compared to last year.

Approximately 18,200 or 1 in 4 of the cases were disposed through a contested hearing. A consent or default judgment was entered in 33,925 (45 percent) of the cases, while in 22,424 (29 percent) of the actions, proceedings were dismissed. One hundred sixty-one domestic relations cases were transferred out of the county on a change of venue.

On a statewide basis, the courts disposed 93 of every 100 domestic relations cases filed. Disposition to filing ratios of 0.93 or greater were achieved by 58 counties and 21 circuits. A total of 16 counties actually disposed more domestic relations cases that were filed; the same holds true for 6 circuits.

As of June 30, 1992, there were 60,301 pending domestic relations cases, up 6,078 cases (11 percent) over the number at the beginning of the year.

CHAPTER 517

There was a 5 percent decrease in the filings of civil cases which are governed by the procedures set out in Chapter 517, RSMo. The courts reported 116,524 such cases filed, which includes tort and contract cases where the amount in question does not exceed $15,000; hearings to reinstate a driver's license following refusal to submit to a chemical test for blood alcohol content; limited (hardship) driving; landlord/tenant actions; and replevin. The total reported filed in FY 1991 was 122,814 cases.

Parties to suits where the amount in question is $5,000 or less and who are dissatisfied with the judgment may apply for a trial de novo. No trial de novo is allowed for actions where the amount exceeds $5,000--these cases are appealed directly to the Court of Appeals. There were 107,797 cases involving amounts of $5,000 or less filed this year; 8,727 cases had associated dollar amounts in the $5,001 to $15,000 range.

For the second consecutive year, dispositions of Chapter 517 cases exceeded the number filed. A total of 122,864 cases were disposed, yielding a disposition to filing ratio of 1.05. Twenty-five of the state's 115 counties (including the City of St. Louis) had ratios of least 1.05. Forty-three counties, had disposition to filing ratios of at least 1.00.

A total of 10,558 Chapter 517 cases were disposed by trial, including 86 cases disposed by jury trial. Judges entered consent or default judgments in 66,133 cases, 54 percent of all Chapter 517 cases disposed. Dismissals accounted for 44,422 (36 percent) of all dispositions. Parties in 215 of the cases were granted a change of venue.

As of June 30, 1992, 70,503 Chapter 517 cases awaited disposition. The number reflects a decrease of 8 percent (6,340 cases) compared to the beginning of the year.

SMALL CLAIMS

Filings of small claims cases decreased 4 percent, from 23,248 cases in FY 1991 to 22,334 cases in FY 1992. The number of small claims cases disposed was 22,051, 99 percent of the number filed. Fifty counties achieved disposition to filing ratios of 0.99 or better. In 48 counties small claims case dispositions equalled or surpassed the number of cases filed, yielding ratios of 1.00 or higher.

Seven thousand two hundred twenty-two (7,222) or 33 percent of all small claims cases were disposed by trial. This compares to 7,071 cases (30 percent) tried in FY 1991. An uncontested judgment was entered in an additional 6,364 (29 percent) of the cases. Just over 8,300 (38 percent) of the cases were dismissed.

The pending caseload for small claims petitions grew 3 percent, from 9,340 cases at the start of the year to 9,623 cases when the year ended.

Criminal

Criminal case filings in Missouri's trial court totaled 166,378, a 9 percent increase (14,068 cases) over last year and the highest number ever reported. The criminal caseload consists of 26,043 felony cases, 40,308 felony preliminary cases, and 100,027 misdemeanor cases.

The total of 155,484 cases disposed is a new record, surpassing last year's dispositions by 14,873 cases (11 percent). Included in the total are 24,682 felonies, 37,956 felony preliminaries and 92,846 misdemeanors.

A disposition to filing ratio of 0.93 was calculated for all criminal case types combined. This is the largest such ratio in at least the last eight year.

The pending criminal caseload grew to 186,860 cases, an increase of 10,894 cases (6 percent) over the number pending at the beginning of the year. The pending number includes inactive cases--those in which a warrant or mental exam is outstanding and in which the defendant, at least for the time being, is incompetent to proceed.

FELONY

Felony case filings continued on an upward spiral, with the most commonly reported offenses involving stealing, drugs, burglary, forgery, and passing bad checks. This year's total of 26,043 cases is 12 percent (2,735 cases) higher than the number filed last year and 43 percent (7,791 cases) higher than the number filed five years ago.

Felony dispositions numbered 24,682 for the year, which includes 893 jury trials and 264 court trials. Seventy-eight percent (19,353) of the felony cases were disposed by guilty plea. Charges were dismissed by the prosecutor in 3,006 (12 percent) of the cases, while approximately 850 defendants charged with felonies were granted a change of venue. Dismissals by the court and other occurrences accounted for the remaining 1 percent of the dispositions.

On a statewide basis, 95 of every 100 felony cases filed was disposed. This resulted in a disposition to filing ratio of 0.95, a ratio which was met or exceeded by 45 counties and 17 circuits. In 33 counties and 8 circuits, the ratio of disposed to filed cases was 1.00 or greater, indicating that the number of cases disposed was equal to or greater than the number filed.

A total of 1,361 cases were added to the pending caseload, a 9 percent increase over the beginning of the year. As of June 30, 1992, 15,761 felony cases were undisposed.

FELONY PRELIMINARIES

Just over 40,300 felony preliminary cases were filed in FY 1992, the eighth consecutive year in which the number of felony preliminary cases filed has increased. The total this year is 2,088 (5 percent) higher than last year and almost 9,500 (31 percent) higher than five years ago.

The courts disposed 37,956 felony preliminary cases, or 94 percent of the number filed. The state as a whole achieved a disposition to filing ratio of 0.94, the highest in the last six years. Four counties achieved the statewide ratio for case dispositions to filings; 49 counties achieved ratios greater than 0.94 and 35 counties reported disposing at least the same numbers of cases as were filed.

Approximately 19,000 or half of the defendants charged with a felony offense were bound over for arraignment at the circuit level. This compares with about 17,200 defendants bound over in FY 1991. For an estimated 36 percent of these defendants, a preliminary hearing was held. The remainder were bound over following waiver of the right to a preliminary hearing.

In 5,103 (13 percent) of the cases disposed, the defendant pleaded guilty to a reduced charge. Dismissals by the prosecutor or by the court accounted for 10,443 (28 percent) of the dispositions. Nearly all of the remaining dispositions were by transfer to the circuit level following indictment by a grand jury.

The pending end figure for felony preliminary cases was 27,445, an increase of 2,352 cases (9 percent) over the number pending at the beginning of the year.

MISDEMEANORS

Misdemeanor case filings in the Circuit Court exceeded 100,000 for the first time in FY 1992. Among the most frequently charged misdemeanor offenses are passing a bad check and driving while intoxicated.

Circuit Court

The courts disposed 93 of every 100 misdemeanor cases filed, the highest proportion in several years. More than half (59) of the counties disposed at least 93 percent of the number of misdemeanor cases filed. In 29 counties the number disposed equalled or exceeded the number filed, yielding a disposition to filing ratio of 1.00 or greater.

The total of 92,846 cases disposed is comprised almost entirely of guilty pleas and dismissals. A guilty plea was the manner of disposition in 64,517 or nearly 70 percent of the cases. Prosecutors and the court dismissed 23,561 or 25 percent of the misdemeanor cases disposed. In many instances these dismissals were contingent on payment of costs by the defendant.

Circuit Court

*Criminal includes Felony, Felony Preliminary, and Misdemeanor Cases

Two thousand six hundred forty-eight (2,648) misdemeanor cases were disposed by trial, 105 more than were disposed by trial last year. The number of trials consists of 196 jury trials and 2,272 court trials.

On a statewide basis, the courts experienced an increase of 7,181 (5 percent) in the number of pending misdemeanor cases. By the end of the 1992 fiscal year, 143,654 misdemeanor cases were pending.

Traffic

State traffic cases filed numbered 389,290, an increase of nearly 25,000 cases (7 percent) compared to last year. There were more traffic cases filed in FY 1992 than in any of the three previous years. Case dispositions were also up, from 351,142 in FY 1991 to 370,290 this year. Overall, the courts achieved a disposition to filing ratio of 0.95, a ratio which was equalled or surpassed in 88 counties. In 43 counties, at least as many cases were disposed as were filed; disposition to filing ratios in these counties were 1.00 or more.

Ninety percent (337,113) of all traffic cases were disposed by guilty plea. Most were written pleas handled through a traffic violations bureau. Judges accepted 69,825 guilty pleas to state traffic offenses, up from 60,045 pleas accepted in FY 1991; 267,288 written pleas were entered. Close to 6,700 traffic cases were tried in FY 1992; charges were dismissed in 26,039 cases, 7 percent of the total.

Based on reports from the courts, 183,073 state traffic cases were undisposed at the end of the year. This is 19,000 (12 percent) more than at the beginning of the year.

Ordinance/Municipal Certifications and Trials De Novo

A total of 41,860 municipal and county ordinance violation cases were filed in the state's trial court. The number filed is down for the second consecutive year; compared to FY 1991, approximately 5,100 (11 percent) fewer cases were filed. Municipalities with populations of less than 400,000 may elect to have their ordinance cases filed in an associate division of the Circuit Court to be heard in the first instance by an associate circuit judge.

There were 43,606 ordinance cases disposed, of which 768 were by court trial. This compares to 611 ordinance cases disposed by trial last year. Close to 70 percent of the dispositions were by guilty plea, with 8,351 pleas entered in court and 21,885 pleas entered through a traffic violations bureau. Charges were dismissed in 12,495 (29 percent) of the cases.

The disposition to filing ratio for ordinance cases was 1.04, a ratio which was met or surpassed in 30 of the 71 counties reporting ordinance case filings in FY 1992. Fourteen additional counties achieved disposition to filing ratios in the 1.00 to 1.03 range.

As a result of more cases being disposed than filed, there was a reduction in the number of pending ordinance cases. When the year ended, 21,389 cases remained undisposed, a decrease of 1,746 cases

(8 percent) from the beginning of the year.

Nearly 4,600 municipal cases were certified for jury trial or were transferred to the circuit division on application for a trial de novo. The number is up slightly compared with FY 1991 filings and is second only to the 4,906 municipal certification/ trial de novo cases filed in FY 1989.

Dispositions of the certified and transferred cases totaled 4,314, an increase of 284 cases (7 percent) over last year's figure. Three hundred eighteen (318) of the cases were tried, with a jury hearing evidence in 13 of the cases. A guilty plea was entered in 2,451 (57 percent) of the cases, while 1,426 cases (33 percent of the total) were dismissed.

Ninety-four of every 100 municipal certification/trial de novo cases filed were disposed, which equates to a disposition to filing ratio of 0.94. In 27 of the 75 counties reporting filings of this case type, a disposition to filing ratio equal to or greater than the average for all counties was achieved.

The number of pending municipal certification/trial de novo cases rose from 2,287 on July 1, 1991 to 2,570 on June 30, 1992. The change represents an increase of 283 cases (12 percent).

Juvenile

A record number of juvenile cases were filed in FY 1992. New petitions and supplemental filings totaled 22,634, an increase of 820 cases (4 percent) over last year.

The composition of the juvenile caseload was largely consistent with that reported for FY 1991. Forty-five (45) percent of the juveniles were brought before the court for alleged violation of a state law or local ordinance; 29 percent were the victims of abuse or neglect, up from 28 percent the previous year; 12 percent of the petitions were for status offenses; 11 percent sought adoptions, down from 12 percent in FY 1991; 4 percent of the cases involved termination of parental rights.

The courts disposed a record 21,854 juvenile cases, 675 (3 percent) more than in FY 1991. Over 17,000 cases (78 percent of the total) were disposed by court hearing, the largest number disposed by hearing ever. Dismissals accounted for 4,188 (19 percent) of the dispositions. Three hundred eighty-five (385) juveniles were transferred to other jurisdictions, while 277 were certified to adult court. The number of certifications is an all-time high, exceeding last year's number by 65 (31 percent) and the previous high of 232 certifications by 45 cases (19 percent).

Probate

The total of 14,094 probate cases opened this year is nearly identical to the number opened in FY 1991. There was a change, however, in the composition of the caseload, with more decedents' estates opened and fewer mental health petitions filed than in the previous year. The numbers of guardianship and conservatorship cases opened increased slightly.

DECEDENTS' ESTATES

There were 7,956 decedents' estates opened, an increase of 309 (4 percent) estate openings compared to last year. Almost all of the increase was in the independent administration category which rose from 3,027 estates in FY 1991 to 3,290 estates this year. The proportion of independently administered estates has grown annually and this year accounts for 41 percent of all new decedents' estate cases. Openings of supervised administration estates totaled 4,666, up 1 percent (46 cases) over last year's number.

Probate divisions reported closing 7,909 decedents' estates, comprised of 4,679 supervised and a 3,230 independent administration cases. While the total closings is down 3 percent compared to last year, independent administration case closings set a new record, growing 8 percent (243 closings) over the number in FY 1991. At the same time, closings involving supervised administrations fell 10 percent (495 cases).

The pending caseload for decedents' estates increased by fewer than 50 cases statewide to total 16,193 pending estates at the end of the year.

ABBREVIATED MATTERS INVOLVING DECEDENTS' ESTATES

Refusals of Letters: There was a small increase in the number of applications for refusals of letters, the first increase in five years. The number, 4,604, is up by 70 applications (2 percent) compared to last year. Applications for refusals of letters may be used to transfer a decedent's property to a spouse or unmarried minor child or to a creditor if there is no surviving spouse or unmarried minor child. The proportion of spouse/minor applications has diminished annually over the past five years. There were 2,123 spouse/minor refusals, 54 percent of the total in FY 1992. This percentage is down from 56 percent the previous year and 62 percent in FY 1987.

Small Estates Affidavits: The courts reported a total of 2,478 small estates affidavits filed, 2 percent (41 affidavits) fewer than in FY 1991. The number of small estates affidavits has shown only minor fluctuation over the past 10 years.

Wills Admitted or Rejected: The probate divisions made determinations on 6,706 purported wills in FY 1992, 179 (3 percent) more than in FY 1991.

GUARDIANSHIPS/CONSERVATORSHIPS

A record 4,194 guardianships and conservatorships were opened this year. Two of every three cases (2,820) involved persons who were incapacitated or disabled. Most (70 percent) of these required both a guardian and conservator. In about 25 percent of the cases involving incapacitated/disabled persons, a guardian only was appointed; only 4 percent of the cases required the appointment of a conservator only.

There were 1,374 guardian/conservator cases for minors opened, surpassing last year's record number by 39 cases. In contrast to the cases involving incapacitated/disabled persons, only 21 percent of the minors required both guardian and conservator services. In 42 percent of the cases a conservator only was appointed; a guardianship only was established in 37 percent of the cases.

A total of 3,130 guardianships and conservatorships were closed, the highest number to date. Total closings are comprised of 2,070 cases involving incapacitated/disabled persons and 1,060 cases in which the subject was a minor. At year's end 27,274 guardian and conservator cases remained under the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court, an increase of 1,064 cases over the beginning of the year.

Definitions and Explanatory Notes

Chapter 517: Comparable to the associate civil case type reported in previous years. Included are civil cases in which the amount in dispute does not exceed $15,000; hardship driving; replevin; forcible entry and unlawful detainer; and landlord-tenant actions.

Civil Case: The unit of count is the petition. A single case may include multiple parties. Included in total civil cases are general civil, domestic relations, Chapter 517, and small claims cases.

Criminal Case: The unit of count is the complaint, information or indictment. A single case may include multiple defendants and/or charges. A case is not counted as disposed until all charges against all defendants have been disposed.

Included in total criminal cases are felonies, felony preliminaries, and misdemeanors. Traffic offenses are also a type of criminal case. Municipal and county ordinance cases, which are quasi-criminal matters, are included in some tables.

Disposition to Filing Ratio: Compares the number of cases disposed with the number of cases filed during the year to give an indication of how well the court is keeping up with its workload. Ratios of 1.00 or greater indicate that the court disposed at least as many cases as were filed. Ratios greater than 1.00 mean the court disposed more cases that were filed during the year, thus achieving a reduction in its pending caseload. Ratios which are less than 1.00 indicate that the court disposed fewer cases than were filed and experienced an increase in its pending caseload.

This ratio is calculated by dividing the number of cases disposed by the number of cases filed.

DMH 128: An application to the probate division for detention, evaluation and treatment of a person alleged to be mentally disordered. Involuntary detention may not exceed 96 hours. Only initial applications are counted.

DMH 132: Notice of admission, initiated by a mental health coordinator or peace officer, of an involuntary patient to a mental health facility.

DMH 8525: An application to the probate division for detention, treatment and rehabilitation of a person alleged to abuse alcohol and/or drugs. Involuntary detention may not exceed 96 hours. Only initial applications are counted.

DMH 8529: Notice of admission, initiated by a mental health coordinator or peace officer, of an involuntary patient to an alcohol/drug abuse facility.

Domestic Relations: Includes dissolution of marriage; legal separation, annulment, separate maintenance; URESA; adult abuse; motions to modify; motions for contempt in domestic relations cases; contested actions involving administrative support orders of the Department of Social Services; child protection orders; paternity; writs of habeas corpus in child custody cases; registrations of foreign domestic relations judgments; and miscellaneous domestic relations cases.

Felony: Includes felony cases which were reduced to misdemeanors.

Felony Preliminary: Includes felony complaints which were reduced to misdemeanors and disposed in the associate divisions.

General Civil: Comparable to the circuit civil case type reported in previous years. Among the specific actions included are civil cases involving amounts over $15,000; Chapter 517, RSMo, and small claims trials de novo; administrative review cases; condemnations; extraordinary remedy cases, such as habeas corpus and injunctions; change of name cases; registrations of foreign judgment; tax actions; and motions for post conviction relief (Supreme Court Rules 24.035 and 29.15).

Juvenile: Includes both new cases and supplementary filings, additional petitions or motions to modify filed under an existing case number after a disposition has been rendered on the original petition. For statistical purposes, a juvenile case is considered disposed when a determination of the facts in the petition has been concluded and an order has been entered. The case file may remain open while the child is under the jurisdiction of the court.

The unit of count is the petition. More than one child as well as multiple allegations involving one juvenile may be included in one petition. Referrals to the juvenile officer or to the juvenile court in which no petition is filed are not included.

Juveniles are individuals under 17 years of age.

Mental Health Petition: Petition for 21 days, 30 days, 90 days or one-year involuntary detention, treatment or rehabilitation for a mental disorder or abuse of alcohol and/or drugs.

Misdemeanor: Includes cases originally filed in either the circuit or associate division of the Circuit Court. A request for jury trial may or may not result in the case being certified from the associate to the circuit division, depending on local practice. Non-traffic infractions are included in the misdemeanor count.

Ordinance: Municipal ordinance violation cases in which the municipality has elected to have its ordinance cases heard and determined by an associate circuit judge. Only those cases for which clerical support is provided by the state are included. Ordinance cases heard by an associate judge at a location staffed by the municipality are not included.

The ordinance category also includes violations of county ordinances.

Pending: Pending end figures reported for one year may not equal the pending beginning figures for the next year due to pending audits conducted at the court.

Pending to Disposition Ratio: Compares the number of cases pending with the number of cases disposed. The ratio provides an estimate of the number of years that would be required to dispose all pending cases if these cases were disposed at the same rate and by the same manners of disposition as the cases disposed during the year.

Ratios of 1.00 or greater indicate that at least one year would be needed to dispose all pending cases. Ratios of less than 1.00 indicate that the pending caseload could be eliminated in under one year. For example, a ratio of 0.50 means that approximately a half year would be required to dispose all pending cases.

The pending to disposition ratio is calculated by dividing the number of cases pending at the end of the year by the number of cases disposed.

Probate: Total cases includes decedents' estates; minors' guardianships and conservatorships; incapacitated/disabled persons' guardianships and conservatorships; and mental health petitions.

Small Claims: The jurisdictional limit is $1,500. Small claims trials de novo are General Civil cases.

Traffic: State traffic offenses. Does not include the more serious traffic violations, such as driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident or driving while license is suspended or revoked. These cases are reflected in the numbers of misdemeanors, felonies and felony preliminary cases.

DATA SOURCES AND NOTES

Caseload figures contained in the following tables are based on information provided to the Office of State Courts Administrator by the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and Circuit Court.

Population data was supplied by the Bureau of the Census and the Missouri Office of Budget and Planning.

The disposition to filing ratio included in many of the tables compares the number of cases disposed with the number of cases filed during the year to give an indication of how well the court is keeping pace with its workload.

Ratios of 1.00 or greater indicate that the court disposed at least as many cases as were filed. Ratios greater than 1.00 mean the court disposed more cases than were filed during the year, thus achieving a reduction in its pending caseload. Ratios which are less than 1.00 indicate that the court disposed fewer cases than were filed and experienced an increase in its pending caseload.

This ratio is calculated by dividing the number of cases disposed by the number of cases filed.

The pending to disposition ratio compares the number of cases pending with the number of cases disposed. The ratio provides an estimate of the number of years that would be required to dispose all pending cases if these cases were disposed at the same rate and by the same manner of disposition as the cases disposed during the year.

Ratios of 1.00 or greater indicate that the court has at least as many cases to be disposed as were disposed during the year. Ratios which are less than 1.00 indicate that the court disposed more cases during the year than remained pending at the end of the year.

This ratio is calculated by dividing the number of cases pending at the end of the year by the number of cases disposed.
